Most of us alive today have known no other Monarch so the passing of Queen Elizabeth after 70 years reign feels like quite a change to some. She honoured her vow to serve, made on her twenty first birthday, and was loved and respected throughout the world not only as Queen but as a great stateswoman, meeting world leaders and visiting many countries as Head of the Commonwealth.

Her Christian faith sustained her throughout her life. She touched hearts and raised spirits wherever she went. Nearly one third of people in the UK have met her. She also had a great sense of fun, delightfully shown in her Platinum Jubilee appearance with Paddington Bear.

In her long reign there were several occasions of national celebration. Back in 1953 many who did not line the streets of London gathered together with family or neighbours to watch Queen Elizabeth's Coronation on black and white television and throughout the country communities celebrated with street parties. Little Birch held a sports day in Castle Nibole field and a fancy dress competition which was won by Iris whose mother had made her a dress from red, white and blue crepe paper.

In 1977 Little Birch celebrated the Queen's Silver Jubilee with a tea party. It was held in Little Birch hall which was refurbished for the occasion, having been closed for several years. A sports day was organized for the Golden Jubilee in 2002 in the Castle Nibole field behind Little Birch Village Hall. Events included a tug of war and a football match with men dressed as women, followed by a tea party in the village hall and a disco.

Now his majesty King Charles III has acceded to the throne and we will prepare to celebrate his coronation in due course.

rainbows appeared over Windsor Castle and Westminster on the eve of Queen Elizabeth's funeral. On the day of her death there were rainbows at Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle.

Parish Field

You may have noticed that Parish Field has received its annual trim. The wild flowers are cut down once a year after they have set seed.

What you will not have realised is that Terry Rogers scythed, strimmed and raked the whole field SINGLEHANDED, an enormous and exhausting undertaking and for which we are all enormously grateful. I, for one, feel extremely guilty that I did not help and I expect/Hope a number of you feel the same.

Next year I shall make sure a date is arranged in early September and (weather permitting) hope and expect there will be an army of volunteers with machines and rakes so that the job can be completed quickly and with less individual effort. Parish Field is a community space which was created to commemorate the Queen's diamond jubilee. It is appreciated by many throughout the spring and summer. It is important to maintain it for posterity.

Thought for the Month

Harvest time is again upon us. The wheat and barley are in, the tractors are bringing in the potatoes and the fields are being fertilised and sown ready for next spring. We are blessed because we live in such an agriculturally vibrant area. There are orchards and fields of pasture for sheep and cattle, harvested fields that reveal the tractor's tyre treads and ridges where potatoes have grown and now are waiting to be harvested and stored.

This constant change comes as we said goodbye to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and hello to a yet uncrowned King Charles III. A new era, the third Carolingian one replaces the second Elizabethan one. What will the years bring? Change? Definitely. Challenge? Almost certainly. Crises? Quite probably. The end of the world? I hope not!

The change in the agricultural year reminds us of the changes in our life as a nation. Queen Elizabeth, who stood as a fixed point in our lives for so many years has gone, we need to re-orientate ourselves, letting go of some of the past and steering a new course, but with our eyes fixed on that which does not change. Jesus' reminding us to love God and one another is just as valid now as it ever was and the life of service that Queen Elizabeth showed, tiring and draining as it was at times, gives us a guiding star. We may serve those around us with love and generosity just as we are commanded to do.

Jobs for the Garden in October

Earlier this year one of my three compost bays fell apart after about fourteen years, the posts having rotted. During the latter part of August I rebuilt it. A large pile of waste material had, by now, accumulated nearby. I started to fork the waste into the new bay and to my surprise I uncovered a cluster of what I initially thought were balls of fungi. On closer inspection I realised that they were snake eggs. Having not seen a snake during our time living here I opened one egg to see what specie it was, and found it to be a Grass Snake – the young one being about 6 inches (15cms) long. I tucked the eggs and the young one into the new compost heap (I suspect the young one will die) at a similar depth to how I found them.

Jobs to do

- *Alpine troughs will benefit from being placed under cover or against a wall in rain shadow away from the prevailing wind.
 - *Check that greenhouse heaters are in good working order (in case we have a winter!!).
 - *Remove saucers from under containers and pots and raise them off the ground with 'pot feet' or wooden batons.
 - *It is a good time to lift and divide large clumps of perennials.
 - *Lift and store dahlia tubers.
 - *Mist house plants.
 - *Remove larger figs which are unlikely to ripen leaving only pea sized fruit. Protect these from frost to ripen next year.
 - *Harvest main crop potatoes (if not already done), pumpkins and marrows.
 - *Keep harvesting apples, pears and grapes.
- In sheltered plots sow broad beans at end of the month. They must be hardy e.g. The Sutton or Aquadulce.
- * Divide rhubarb.
 - *Plant garlic.
 - *Continue to feed birds and provide fresh water. Chop up windfall apples and pears and place on bird table(s)
 - *Remove fruit nets. If you have a fruit cage, remove the 'roof' net just in case we have snow.
 - *Remove excess fallen leaves from ponds to prevent the buildup of too much decaying organic material in the water.
 - *Clean out and re-hang nesting boxes.

Annual St Thomas Cantilupe Lecture

Blood and Bones

Thomas Becket and the British Museum

Tuesday 4 October, Tea in the retrochoir 3.30pm, Lecture in South Transept 4pm – 5pm

On 29 December 1170 Thomas Becket was brutally murdered in Canterbury Cathedral by four knights from King Henry II's entourage. It was a shocking act few could have predicted, that left medieval Europe reeling. Just over 850 years later the British Museum staged a blockbuster exhibition of his life, death, and legacy. This lecture will explore Becket's remarkable story from his birth in London around 1120, through the twists and turns of his life story, to his legacy as one of Europe's most popular saints and reflect on its resonance and relevance for modern audiences.

This talk will be given by Lloyd de Beer, a curator at the British Museum. Join Lloyd in the South Transept on Tuesday 4 October, 4pm, for this talk.

This a Life & Learning talk, tickets are free and can be booked via the website, or by contacting library@herefordcathedral.org or call 01432 374 225/6 www.herefordcathedral.org/Event/annual-st-thomas-cantilupe-lecture

The Poems and Songs of Henry Hall of Hereford: a Jacobite Poet of the 1690s

Wednesday 12 October, 7pm in College Hall

Henry Hall (c. 1656-1707), Organist of Hereford Cathedral and composer of church music, was also a compulsive writer of lively and irreverent verse, a notably convivial local personality, and a fiercely Jacobite opponent of William III and Mary II. This presentation will profile Hall through his prolific poetic output, which was wide-ranging in form and subject: from political songs and satires to lampoons, love poems, drinking songs, and riddles!

Dr Oliver Pickering, formerly Deputy Head of Special Collections in Leeds University Library, is Honorary Fellow in the School of English at Leeds and a Fellow of the English Association. Join Oliver in College Hall on Wednesday 12 October, 7pm, for this talk.

This a Life & Learning talk, tickets cost £10 and can be booked via the website, or by contacting library@herefordcathedral.org or call 01432 374 225/6 www.herefordcathedral.org/Event/the-poems-and-songs-of-henry-hall

Much Birch Parish Council Meeting

The Parish Council Meeting held in the Much Birch Community Hall on the 8th September commenced with a period of silence in memory of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II whose death had, sadly, just been announced that evening. The Parish Council discussed and agreed comments on two local planning applications. The Parish Council heard updates on the review of social care provision by Herefordshire Council, and also about a new cycle way for the city of Hereford. There were some questions about the cycle way and more information about the project was requested. The Ward Councillor would find out more information on this for an update, hopefully, at the next parish council meeting. The dates for the forthcoming meetings in the year 2022 are: October 6, November 10 and December 8. The next ordinary Parish Council Meeting, of the Much Birch Parish Council is on Thursday 6th October 2022 at 7.30pm.

SSAFA & Samaritans Concert: Can you hear me?

Friday 14 October 7.30pm

On Friday 14 October Hereford Cathedral welcomes back the popular fundraising concert hosted by SSAFA Herefordshire and Herefordshire Samaritans. This year's concert will explore mental health & wellbeing and is called Can You Hear Me?

Can You Hear Me, is one of local choir Cantabile's signature songs, which refers to the silent call for help by those struggling with mental health issues.

The performances will include two choirs from Hereford Cathedral School - Cantabile (award winning girls choir) & Colla Voce (Yr 7/8 choir). Performers also include the Marches Military Wives Choir, The Fire Choir, Tarrington Brass and the Orchestra of the Swan – The Swan Trio, who provide musical support for those living with dementia. The concert will feature an opening speech from Kate Bliss.

The evening will culminate in a grand finale of similar style to the 'last night of the proms' - hand held union flags will be provided and the usual Jerusalem and Land of Hope and Glory will be enjoyed by all! Bring along your singing voices and join us for a musical evening for all the family!

Tickets start at £5 and can be purchased on the cathedral website or in the cathedral shop. The cathedral shop is open from 10am - 5pm Monday - Saturday and available via phone 01432 374 210.

Cream Tea Walk

On Sunday 21 August a lovely walk was had with over 40 people, some children, and many dogs. We walked up to Aconbury Woods and then down to Aconbury village passing two large ponds. Climbing up through a field of dried beans we could turn around and admire the view towards Hereford. Returning up through the woods and along Green Lane, we were welcomed back to the farm with tea, scones, cream and jam. Thanks to all the Mason family who hosted the event and provided the tea, chairs, tables and gazebos.

£273 was raised - split between Hereford Food Bank and St Michaels Hospice.

Hereford Applefest

Saturday 1 October – Saturday 15 October

Hereford Cathedral will be taking part in the city's first festival celebrating all things apples! Local businesses, councils, cider producers and community groups are banding together to provide an array of entertainment. Activities across the city include: live music, children's activities, giveaways, themed trails, guest speakers, visits with local artisan cider and apple juice producers, virtual reality experiences, plus feasts and tastings. At Hereford Cathedral we will be offering a new self-led family apple trail around our building, as well as selling tasty treats and cider from the café.
